MADERO REFUSES TO ARM CITIZENS

Situation in Puetia, Guerrero and More-ios is Declared Acute; Rebels Renew Activity.

Mexico City, Mex., Dec. 4.—Unable itself to give protection to other than the larger towns and occasionally a few haclendas, the government has remarked the request of a group of property owners in the state of Puebla to arm a protective organization, whom the owners proposed to pay and direct.

The group is headed by Manuel Rivero Collada, the Spanish consul at Puebla.

LASCURIAN WILL VISIT WASHINGTON

Mexican People Are Skeptical Regarding Visit of American Warships-Mudero Plans Recognition.

Mexico City, Mex. Dec. 4 .- Mexican foreign minister Lascurian will visit the United States "solely for the pur-pose of attending to private business." according to an announcement made here. He denied that his visit to the capital would be official. The general belief is that he will attempt a settle-ment of differences arising from the revolution.

The Mexican people are skeptical regarding the coming of the American warships, the visit of which has been explained as one of courtesy, especially because the vessels, on account of their size, probably will not be able to enter Veracruz harbor.

Mexico is planning an official recognition from the capitol.

It is reported that Ernesto Madero, minister of finance, contemplates going to London for the purpose of floating a 20,000,000 peso loan, authorized by congress, the flotation of which by means of agents has failed. Official denial is made of the report.

There is a small federal garrison at Villa Abumada, but it has been occupied by the rebels under Gen. Marcelo Carraveo. It is believed that Orosco and Carraveo have formed a junction, which will form a force of some 760 men. Gen. Incs Salazar, with about 400 rebels, remains sparring with federals defending Ascencion. ENGINEER ABLE'S INJURIES ARE FATAL

Engineer L. Able, who was injured in the collision Tuesday morning on the Tucson division of the Southern Pacific railway about five miles east of Lordsburg, died of his injuries before he reached the Tucson hospital Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Able was in charge of the freight engine and was scalded by the steam from the deralled engine. Fireman W. S. Hoosen and brakeman Albert Mast, both of El Paso, were also injured in the wreck, but are being cared for at Tucson. It is not believed that their injuries are serious. Mr. Mast's mother, Mrs. E. P. Mann Sidetracks Adamson BH.

An amendemnt offered by the Republican leader Mann, proposing a rigid regulation of the issuance of stocks and honds, prevented passage by the house of the Adamson bill that would authorize a special commission to ascertain the physical valuation of railroads and other interstate carriers, with the view of alding the interstate commerce commission in fixing equitable freight rates.

Few, if any, of the passengers were killed or wounded, it is said, except the American passenger whom one of the refugees declares he saw with a ball through the throat. More of the refugees are expected to arrive in Juniez late today on a work train. They will include Francisco Familiar, the train master, seriously wounded. Since no bridges were burned but instead rails removed so as to wreck the train, it is believed that the rebels mistook it for the troop train bearing the 23d infantry and "El Nino," the ship's cannon. Since the big gun has been pushed ahead of the train on its first arrival at Juarez from Chihuahua and its return to the state capital by way of the North Western railway, the derailing of the first car would have commerce commission in fixing equitable freight raises.

Debates on the hill, which was favorably reported by the interstate and foreign commerce committee at the last seasion, had been in progress nearly five hours and a vote was about to be taken, when Mr. Mann moved that the measure be sent back to the commission with instructions that it be reported with his proposed section added. Some of the refugees report that they heard cannon shots below the wrecked train and believe that it was the cannon of the troop train. They agree that after leaving on the handcar they saw smoke, and believe that the rebels had burned the passenger train. One of the Mexicans had most of his clothing taken by the rebels.

The wrecked train was due in Juarez Tuesday night. The train which arrived in Juarez today, backing up from Villa Ahumada, had left Juarez Tuesday morning. The returning train contained some prominent railway and government officials. They include Aureliano Gonzalez, secretary of the state of Chihushua, and A. Clark, general manager of the National Railways of Mexico.

DR. S. B. HARTMAN

The entrance of Orozco's force in the district below Juarez comes as a surprise to federal officials, who had instated that he was hiding in the United States, and also increases the menace to the small forces of government troops scattered through the district below the border at this point. The scmored troop train, with 500 men of the 15th battalion and the ship's cannon, is believed to be stranded between burned bridges below Villa Ahumada, and practically useless, as it carries only infantry and artillery.

Battle at Guzman Reported. Cots for 56 wounded federal soldiers were ordered from Juarez Tuesday night to be sent to Guzman at once. The order was received by the military authorities and were ordered rushed to the scene of the supposed battle. No details were received in Juarez of any ongagement except the rush order for cots and an effort is now being made to learn any particulars of an engagement between rebels and federals. I have been practicing medicine since 1855. Most of that time I have been using Pe-ra-na as my principal remedy. So many unexpected recoveries have been made by those for whom I have prescribed Fe-ru-na that it would take a large book to contain them all. They keep conting up to my mind one by one. Whether on my farm, or at home, whether playing with my grand-children or conducting my large office business, there incidents of old-time business, there incidents of old-time RIGHT TO WHIP BOYS. Her physicians were honored members of the medical fraternity, in whom Mrs. Eberlein's husband and family had perfect confidence. And the sorrow with which they listened to their decision that they had exhausted everything known to them in wain for the relief of the wife and mother of the afflicted household can be batter imagined than described. As is common to this sort of patients, Mrs. Eberlein continued hopoful long after her attendants believed her to be beyond cure.

I was practicing at the time in Pittsburg, and a fancy that I would be able to relieve her was, during her illness, repeatedly expressed by Mrs. Eberiein, but it was regarded as the merest whim; and, as they were employing the best medical talent the city afforded, no attention was paid to it. At last she became so weak and emaciated that an attendant was constantly at band to lift her during the terrible coughing apells to which she was subject, and which, were frequently followed by all wing sinking spells, during which she was often thought to be dying. It was during one of these frightful paroxy mms when her husband was supporting her tenderly and vainly trying to palliate her sufferings that she again expressed her belief that if Dr. Hartman were sent for he could relieve her.

Couch was one of the first symptoms, which gradually grew weres in spite of

During this history of conflict with this terribic disease frequent consultations were held, but nothing checked the steady progress of her maldy. Not a doubt had existed in the minds of her physicians or friends as to the nature of her disease, nor as to his fatal termination. The repeated examinations of her lungs indicated the rapid strides with which she was nearing the end.

Her physicians were honored members of the medical fraternity, in "Doctor, my wife is well"

"Do to prove in this awfel emergency, that I replied:

It was two weeks before I again heard from the case, when the husband entered my office, radiant with joy, and, not waiting for the agual substance."

"Doctor, my wife is well?"

"Oh, no, you mean she is better," I replied. But the enthusiastic husband imissed that his wife was 'well and the heartiest eater at the table."

The fact was that, while she had made astonishing improvement she was obliged to continue the use of Peru-na many months. In less than a year she was entirely well, and has remained so since, and her treatment from the beginning to the end was Peru-na and nothing else. To have seen her at the time of the first visit it would have been impossible to betieve that any medicine or other earthly power could have saved her.

Cases of dyspepsia, diarrhoea and dysentery which have withstood all other treatment, have yielded at ones by the use of Pe-ru-na.

Numerous cases of Bright's disease of the kidneys, acute catarrh and rheumatism, female diseases that had been treated locally for years, were instantive relieved and finally recovered by Pe-ru-na. In short, every disease affecting any mucous membrane of the body that has not already gone beyond all earthly help, frequently makes astonishing recovery.

As a general tonle and appetizer Peru-na has no superior. It is a certain remedy for worn-out or tired-out human nature. Cases of servous prostration, loss of vitality and sleeplessness are all treated by Pe-ru-na with such undaylating succers that wherever it is used it ranks as the greatest tonic known.
